Title: Alex & Maria: Q2 Check-in Participants: Alex (Manager), Maria (Report) Duration: 30 minutes

Alex: "Hey Maria, thanks for taking the time. Just a quick check-in on Q2 goals. You've done really strong work on the new auth service documentation—that was great. We should probably think about that thing Sarah mentioned last week about the database migration, but I'm not sure how pressing it is yet. Anyway, on the documentation, I did notice a couple of missing steps in the deployment section, so maybe tighten that up?"

Maria: "Thanks! I appreciate the feedback. On the docs, I can circle back today; I thought I covered it, but I'll check again. Honestly, the main thing I wanted to discuss was getting more context on the big roadmap decisions. Sometimes I feel like the implementation details are handed to me without the 'why.' It would help me prioritize better."

Alex: "That's fair. I'll make sure to loop you in on the planning docs earlier. Speaking of prioritization, the API redesign is coming up. I think leading the full end-to-end design and presenting it to the executive team would be a perfect step for you toward that Tech Lead goal you mentioned. I'll need you to draft a formal proposal next week. Also, you mentioned wanting to learn Kubernetes—that's great, but you're swamped. I'll free up 5 hours a week for you to pair with the DevOps team, but you need to proactively schedule that time."

Maria: "That sounds awesome, I'll schedule the pairing right now. I'll also send that proposal over next Friday."

Alex: "Perfect. Keep up the good work."
